COLORADO REPUBLICANS.

The Republicans of Colorado held a Judicial Convention at Denver last Wednesday and nominated Hon. Samuel H. Elbert, of Denver, for Judge of the Supreme Court. A series of resolutions were adopted congratulating the party on the death of factionalism within the party of Colorado; indorses the resolutions of the Silver Convention held in Denver in January last, deprecates the importation of contract labor; declares in favor of arbitration to settle disputes between capital and labor, and insists on the strict enforcement of the civil service laws. Ex-Secretary Teller addressed the convention on the silver question, advocating its free, unlimited coinage. In the course of his remarks he referred to his administration of the Interior Department, inviting the most searching investigation. He defied partisan hate or personal bitterness to show a single instance in which the offices of the Department were not administered with honesty and justice. A notable feature of the proceedings of the convention was the entire absence of factional feeling in the party, the leaders in speeches pledging themselves to work together harmoniously henceforth for the success of the party in Colorado.

Captain Montgomery, sailing master of the yacht Dauntless, which was so badly beaten by the English cutter Genesta in the Brenton's Reef race, attributes the fact to the light wind which prevailed during the first half of the race. He is confident that his yacht can outfoot the Genesta in heavy weather. He says he is authorized by Caldwell H. Colt, owner of the Dauntless, to match her against any yacht afloat for a race across the Atlantic ocean, either way, for a wager of $10,000.

A Washington special to the Post, giving an interview with Postmaster General Vilas, says: No decision of any kind has been reached in the matter of Harry Donovan, Superintendent of Carriers of the Chicago Postoffice, who has been elected President of the Young Men's Democratic Club, and the Postmaster General even says that the matter is not now under consideration.

A Sun's Washington special says: It is not true that the President and Cabinet are not in agreement as to the full scope and purport of the Civil Service law and not united in a desire rigidly to enforce it to the very letter. Cleveland is warmly supported by every member of the Cabinet in the stand he has taken.

There is much interest in the probable successor to Mr. Eaton as Civil Service Commissioner. The names most prominently mentioned have been those of E. O. Graves, Superintendent of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Mr. Fairchild and Mr. Coon, Assistant Secretaries of the Treasury.

The low rate of $50 has been fixed for round trip tickets between the Missouri river and San Francisco for the Grand Army Encampment next year. This ought to draw an immense number of people to the coast.

The President has, through the Secretary of the Treasury, asked Professor Agassiz to take the office of Superintendent of the Coast and Geodetic survey, vice Professor Hilgard, resigned.

Roswell P. Flower has addressed a letter to George Raines, Chairman of the New York State Democratic Convention, positively declining the nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

Good political work was done by both Republicans and Democrats of New York in the respective nominations for Lieutenant Governor.

There are so many conflicting reports about it that an outsider can hardly tell whether the nomination of Hill suits the Administration or not.

The Sharon case is nearing its end before the United States Circuit Court.

The State Fair.
The Elko Free Press says:
From present indications the State Fair to be held at Reno, during the week commencing October 12th, and ending October 17th, 1885, will be the most successful affair of the kind ever held in Nevada. The attractions presented there this year will undoubtedly surpass those of any year heretofore, both in variety and quality. A deeper interest than ever before manifested is showing itself in all portions of the State, and Nevada people have seemingly awakened to the fact that our State and its varied products can be better known and appreciated if a good showing be made at the State Fair. It is the duty of every citizen and well-wisher of Nevada to give all the aid in their power towards the success of the Fair. If you can not attend in person contribute some article for exhibition. Everything sent will help in the good work. It will cost you nothing to send articles, and we guarantee, from personal knowledge, that everything will be carefully taken care of by those in charge; and if you wish to spend an enjoyable week, take a run down to Reno. You will be treated to the best the town affords. The accommodations are of the best and the people A No. 1.

Death of Goldsmith Maid.
The famous trotting mare Goldsmith Maid died Thursday. She was foaled in May, 1857, and had a record of 2:14 made at Mystic Park, Boston, in September, 1874. She was the queen of the turf for about eight years. Her first appearance on the turf was in 1865 and her last in 1877. She was sired by Alexander's Abdallah, a son of Ryadyk's Hambletonian, dam a mare by old Abdallah.

The Jury Complimented.
On motion of the District Attorney the second charge against Frank Borden was yesterday dismissed on the ground that the girl against whom the alleged assault was committed was over 12 years old. The Judge granted the motion, but said, "I am satisfied the child in testifying that she was over 12 years old swore to a deliberate lie. I don't blame the girl, because I am satisfied she was educated by her parents to so testify." In commenting upon the action of the two juries in the other case the Judge said: "The jury disregarded the law; they disregarded their oaths as jurors, and I want it distinctly understood what I think about it. A jury of Washoe Indians would have done better. I am ashamed of the county I live in, etc., etc." He then severely reprimanded the defendant and ordered him discharged.

For the State Fair.
The Carson Tribune says:
It is pleasant to know that Miss Tuffy, the Carson City artist, will exhibit her beautiful China ware paintings at the State Fair. Miss Tuffy should be induced to send some of her oil paintings, for they are well worthy of being exhibited. In animal painting the young lady cannot be surpassed by any artist on the Pacific Coast, so true to life is her work. In proof of the natural ability Miss Tuffy possesses it needs only a look at her work, for in all branches of the art her work seems perfectly an fait. Some attempts at marine painting made by the lady prove the versatility of her genius. It is to be hoped that samples of all our local artists' work may be placed on exhibition.

The Fair Committee.
The Elko Independent says:
Messrs. J. R. Bradley, C. C. Warner and E. J. Jones, the committee appointed for this county in the interest of the State Fair to be held at Reno next month, hereby give public notice that they are prepared to furnish all necessary information and assistance to persons in the county who may wish to contribute to the exposition. The committee are in hopes that Elko county may in her products, be well represented at Reno next month.

A Michigan Squabble.
Trouble is brewing over the appointments in Michigan. The Michigan delegation is beginning to arrive at Washington. They are going to renew their fight on Don M. Dickenson, who apparently has found favor with the President concerning everything relating to Michigan politics. These Michigan Democrats say Dickenson is using the patronage given him to elect a Democratic Legislature and send himself to the United States Senate; that there is a very fair prospect of electing a Democratic Legislature in that State next year, but if Dickenson is to be continued as boss, the Congressional Democrats swear they will help the Republicans elect a Republican Legislature rather than see the much hated Dickenson reach the Senate.

Interest on Central Pacific Bonds.
The Secretary of the Treasury has issued a circular publishing for the information of all concerned, the recent decision of Second Controller Mayard in regard to the compensation due the Central Pacific Railroad for services rendered for the Government, and announcing, in accordance therewith, that the department's circular of June 27, 1883, and circular letter of June 17, 1884, are revoked, and that all compensations now due or which hereafter may become due that railroad company be covered in the Treasury and one-half thereof applied to the extinguishment of the interest which has meanwhile accrued on Government subsidy bonds, and the other half credited to the sinking fund as required by the Thurman Act.

The Mugwump Chaplain Approves.
Beecher said Wednesday night: "The Republican Convention has done well, and placed a strong ticket in the field. Taken as a whole, and in detail, the ticket is one that should be elected." When asked what he thought the attitude of the Independent Republicans would be, he said: "This ticket should receive the hearty support of them all. I can see no reason why the Independents should not vote the straight ticket."

THE NATURAL MONEY.
The Times-Review says:
The process of sending out silver to take the place of small notes, that is those less than five dollars, find opposition in some quarters, by those who should see that there is a real advantage in this substitution. The Treasury is gradually taking up the one and two dollar notes, and no reserve will be made until after the meeting of Congress. The object is to ascertain what amount of silver can be conveniently held in circulation; and in a few months this question can be better answered than now. As a very large and increasing amount of change is wanted, silver will of course be called for, and thus insensible and without any disturbance, a very large proportion of the surplus silver will come into use. Many years ago silver was almost exclusively the metallic currency of this and almost every other country; and there is no reasonable objection to it. When people become accustomed to it, they will like it just as they liked the old fractional currency now wholly out of use, and that nobody would propose a return to. In Europe, particularly in Germany, efforts are making to restore silver to the place from which, through the influence of the money kings, it was displaced. It will be fortunate for this country if it does not fall into the blunder of rejecting silver, which has been the curse of those lands. Everybody knows, who knows anything about the subject, that the bullion value of silver is now quite equal to the average value of silver and gold as measured by staple articles for many years, and that a persistence in the present policy of England in adhering to gold only, will result in a constant contraction of values, with the necessary evil consequences, for gold is steadily becoming scarcer and dearer. For several years the supply has diminished, while the world's wants have increased, and this process is likely to go on until gold can no longer be advantageously used as a common measure of value.

I thought that Judge W. B. Flemming, one of the new Democratic officials of New Mexico, will resign in a few days. The Judge is now in Kentucky, his former home, endeavoring to recover from a serious illness, and has written to the Territory to the effect that he has poor hopes of recovery, and that he will have to resign. Unless some provision is made much inconvenience will result, for many important cases are awaiting trial in the Federal Court.

John McCullough is steadily sinking. He was visited the other day by his wife and though he recognized her at first, he forgot all about her in a few minutes. It is believed that "the end cannot be very far off. The inventory of all his possessions has been completed. They are valued at a trifle above $12,000; against that there are recorded debts of about $3,000. When the tragedian dies he will be buried in Philadelphia.

The Cabinet has been discussing the silver question, "but took no definite action," the dispatches say. As the law commands the coinage of two millions of silver every month, and the Cabinet can't change the law, it isn't easy to see what "definite action" could be taken, except to go on with the coinage.

Daniel McSweeney, the Irish suspect, has not yet been given an office, and he called Friday to remind the President of that fact. McSweeney has declined the position of Government Timber Agent in Nevada, making no secret of the fact that he expects a better position.

Somebody suggests that the most effective monument that could be constructed to General Grant would be some memorial hewn out of the solid rock in the face of the Palisades across the Hudson. The suggestion is a happy one. Perhaps the most impressive monument in the world is the great Dying Lion by the sculptor Thorwaldsen, hewn in the face of the solid sandstone at Lucerne; and the face of the Palisades furnishes an opportunity ten times as fine. The Swiss lion commemorates the fidelity of the hiring soldier who died in the foolish defense of Louis XVI.; the allegory out in the front of the Palisades would represent a far grander memory. The Lion is hid in the wood, and is visible for only fifty feet; the colossal sculpture of the Hudson cliff would be seen for miles, and would stand for ever, a curiosity as well as a memorial. Let us have something unique, as Nature has offered us an unequalled chance.

Pollard's old friends know where he is located on the east side of Virginia street, and when they want a nice steak or roast are sure to find his new shop.
